SYNOPSIS: Since I was little, they called me Butterfly: always moving, always distracted, always feeling too much. Today I know that fluttering wasn't just energy, but a neurodivergent mind searching for its place. This book is my path—not the only one, nor the one everyone must follow—but an embrace for the little girl I once was, the one who needed to be seen and understood. And I hope that within these pages, someone who also felt “too much” will find an echo, a breath of relief, or a light reminding them they were never broken—they were simply learning to fly differently.

WHEN NEW YORK DID ITS MAGIC AND WE DID THE REST

AUTHOR: Esther Escribano Iniesta

ILUSTRATOR: Leticia Marcuello

SYNOPSIS: Anna thought she had everything under control... until New York decided to turn her life upside down. In a single day, she meets Jamie, a charming lawyer who seems perfect on the surface, and Luke, a famous actor—unpredictable and dangerously attractive. Caught between calm and vertigo, Anna finds herself trapped in a triangle of emotions where reason and the heart never speak the same language. As she struggles to make a name for herself in the competitive world of journalism, the city that never sleeps challenges her to discover who she truly is and what she is willing to risk for love.

Four seasons, one magical city, and a story that proves that sometimes, the best thing about plans... is when they don't turn out the way you expect.

THE SHADOWS AND LIGHTS OF MAR

ROMANTIC
NOVEL

AUTHOR: Inés Pla Serrano

ILLUSTRATOR: Adrian Rubio

SYNOPSIS: Mar has always been the strong one. The shy, studious, and responsible girl who, from a very young age, learned to care for others—starting with her little sister—after a family tragedy changed everything. Since then, nothing has been the same.

Now a midwife, Mar loves her job and has rebuilt her life through effort, therapy, and a group of friends as different as they are essential: Laura, the wild one; Paula, the voice of reason (and style); and Aitana, her soulmate in the form of a best friend. And of course, David, her boyfriend since she was 21—her home, her refuge, her love. But just when she thinks she has left the past behind, life strikes again.

And this time, everything she has built with David is at risk.

A story of love, friendship, and resilience.

Of wounds that never truly heal... and the courage to start over.

Are you ready to meet Mar?

- Quiet Resilience: When caring for others is the only way to exist.
- Friendship as a lifeline and a force for change.

IF YOU HAVE DECIDED, TALK TO HER

AUTHOR: Geri Mayayo

ILUSTRATOR: Estela Macia

SYNOPSIS: Borja recalls how he lived through his final year at university in the late 1990s, studying Translation and Interpreting in Barcelona. There he began learning Japanese and filled his mind with dreams, such as working in the Land of the Rising Sun. It was also there that he met Mirai, a Japanese exchange student with whom he formed a romantic relationship.

On his path to maturity, Borja experienced changes in his love life, his studies, his friendships, and his family. Confident in himself and clear about what he wanted, he went after every obstacle life placed in his path. It wasn't easy, but, as he once read: "If you've decided, do it."

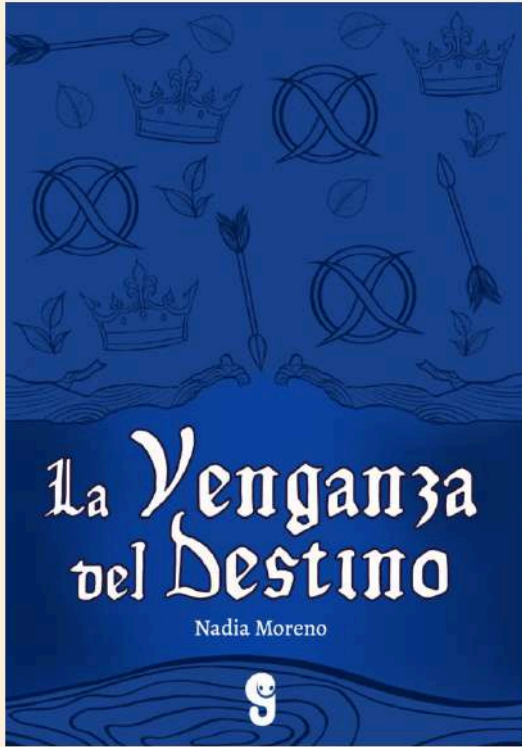

- Life-changing decisions
- Personal dreams versus reality
- Fear of making mistakes
- Intercultural relationships
- The value of speaking up on time

THE REGENERATION OF GOD

- Supernatural and Philosophical Elements
- Urban Setting with Spiritual Contrast
- Journey of Self-Discovery

AUTHOR: Ricardo Guadalupe

ILLUSTRATOR: Óscar Silvestre

SYNOPSIS: The Regeneration of God follows Abel Soca, a young man in search of his purpose, who is pursued by a tribal warrior in 1990s Madrid. On his journey of self-discovery, he will be aided by two supernatural beings and will experience love, friendship, and the night. Sara, a music enthusiast, will play a key role in his transformation.

Meanwhile, a sect of blockers seeks to prevent the final regeneration of God, which would allow an existence that transcends death. These blockers commit murders to spread their message. Abel must break this chain of violence and remember the meaning of the interconnected universe to which we all belong. The novel explores the origins of the cosmos, the struggle between good and evil, and Abel's personal growth as he learns both martial arts and how to believe in himself.
